Blech India moved to November 2021

Due to the ongoing second wave of the pandemic, Reed Exhibitions India has decided to reschedule Blech India from August to November 2021. The decision was taken with the health and safety of our exhibitors, buyers, partners and industry colleagues as our number one priority.

Blech India, India's popular event exclusively dedicated to sheet metal working will now take place from 26 – 28 November 2021 at NESCO (Bombay Exhibition Centre), Mumbai.

Anuj Mathur, Chief Operating Officer of Reed Exhibitions India, said: "Blech India has been rescheduled in the light of the ongoing second wave. It is important that health and safety of our colleagues and industry members remain centre-stage. Support, faith and strength will get us through this critical stage and then we hope to be back together again, building businesses and reconnecting with friends and colleagues across the manufacturing sector."
